

Driag Koah

Driag Koah is the name of my Ocean Protector. Driag Koah is a sea dragon who can swim at mach 11. He has very sharp claws that can cut through seaweed, and he has a flail on his back, sleek scales, and skin between his fingers that can allow him to swim at extremely high speeds. Also, he can determine what will happen around him and react very quickly.

Driag Koah's species is very rare. While normally he is either gathering energy for the next time the ocean is in crisis or watching the oceans, this time he heard that Neptune was in danger so he rushed to assist the king of Atlantis and the seven seas. There are only seven dragons in the world that watch over each continent. He used to watch over Europe until he discovered he could fly at mach 11 and gather enough poisonous substances, which are oil spills the size of a country, and make it disappear. So he devoted his life to the ocean and let Driag Goach, the dragon of life, to watch over Europe. He turned into a sea dragon and can swim very fast. He cleaned the Earth and then rested for five hundred years. When he awoke from his rest, he started to clean the ocean, surprised by the mess, and heard King Neptune's voice and rushed to help him. That is my Ocean Protector.
